Addressing national mental health crisis

“ I just wanted to let you know that all the parents I've heard from since the launch have all said how much easier it is to navigate and how helpful the resources are, that you have made a real difference to families lives and how much all your hard work is appreciated. ”

Parent representative in stakeholder group

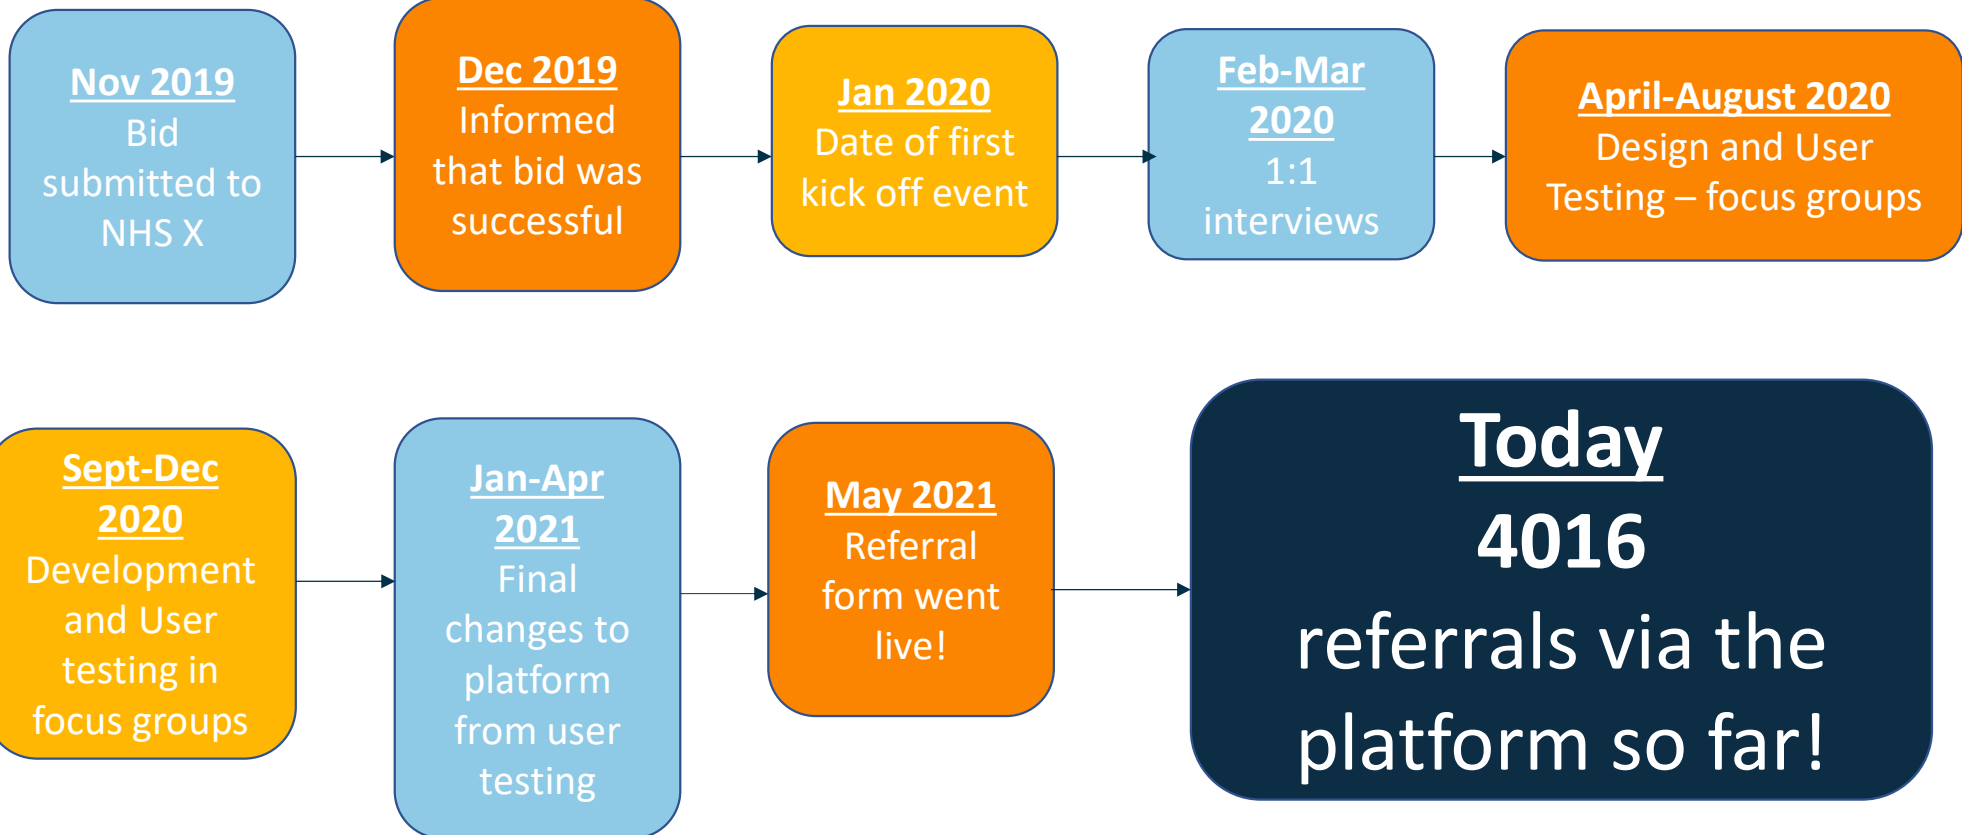

"Back when I was suffering, to have had the platform, and the opportunity to refer myself and get the help I needed it would have made life a lot easier"

"Blobs show that mental illness is something not to be sacred or ashamed of"

"I wish I had the platform for when I felt lonely"
